Reasons for Allowance

The arguments in the 9/28/04 Remarks that the prior art does not teach a 'base station using a second transmission method' are persuasive. The independent claims recite the following limitations:

"transmitting data between a first base station and at least one mobile station based on a first transmission method" and "a second base station based on a second transmission method"

The prior art of record is different because it only teaches a first base station and a second base station using a single transmission method e.g. tdma or cdma. New search updates revealed no other prior art which teaches the limitations in the context of the claims. Therefore, Claims 19-35 are indicated allowable.
